Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 18 of the 169 other note-taking apps we grade

Walling is a visual note-taking workspace where notes, tasks, links and files sit as bricks on a canvas called a wall. The same wall can be viewed as a grid, kanban board, table or list. Walls are grouped into collections and can be shared or published as web pages.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Walling, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> You build your own walls and collections, so there is setup work before it is useful.
>
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for notes laid out on a board, with AI credits

Walling lays notes, tasks, links and files out as bricks on a wall, which you can view as a grid, board, table or list.

2 Paid plans start at $8 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $8 per seat / month, billed monthly ($6.67 billed annually).

3 There is a free plan

10 collections, 25 walls, 50 AI credits a month, 25 email forwards a month, 20 MB uploads and 2 GB storage.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, Android and iOS, with a browser extension too.

5 Bricks on a wall

Notes, tasks, links and files are placed as bricks on a free-form canvas, then grouped into walls and collections.

6 Four views of one wall

Switch the same content between a visual grid, a kanban board, a sortable table and a list.

7 AI credits and agents

AI chat, auto-organize, summarize and brainstorm actions draw on a monthly credit allowance; extra credit packs are sold as add-ons.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 18 of 169

That is against the other note-taking apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Walling you would be making an AI model, which you can rent by the request but not make. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Best for notes laid out on a board, with AI credits

Walling lays notes, tasks, links and files out as bricks on a wall, which you can view as a grid, board, table or list. The free plan stops at 10 collections and 25 walls, AI runs on monthly credits, and the older site says it will close on 15 December 2026.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD Walling Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	$6.67 a seat a month billed yearly ($8 monthly) for Basic. The category's middle is $5.99 and the dearer quarter starts at $8.25. Plus is $16.67.
Free plan and trial	C	A free plan with 10 collections, 25 walls, 50 AI credits and 2 GB of storage, and every paid plan has a 30-day trial. Those caps are easy to reach.
Features	C	Bricks, four views, email forwarding, sharing, a browser extension and MCP. The listing's gaps: the iPhone and iPad app is a beta and AI runs on credits you buy more of.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. You build your own walls and collections, so there is setup work before it is useful.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web, Android, iPhone and iPad (beta) and a browser extension, with MCP for AI tools. There is no desktop app.

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Walling is for

- ✓ Fits if you think in boards and want notes, links and files side by side
- ✓ Makes sense if a small team shares or publishes a wall as a web page

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you stay free: 10 collections, 25 walls, 50 AI credits a month
- ✗ Pricey if you want your own domain on a published wall: $8 a month or $80 a year extra
- ✗ Watch out: the iPhone and iPad app is listed as a beta
- ✗ Watch out: the older walling.app site says it closes on 15 December 2026, so pages may contradict each other
- ✗ Watch out: extra AI credits are bought separately, and Basic has only 7 days of edit history

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ People who think spatially and want notes laid out as a board

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

18/169

Other note-taking apps it is graded above

Walling's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 18 of the 169 other note-taking apps we grade, and level with 14.

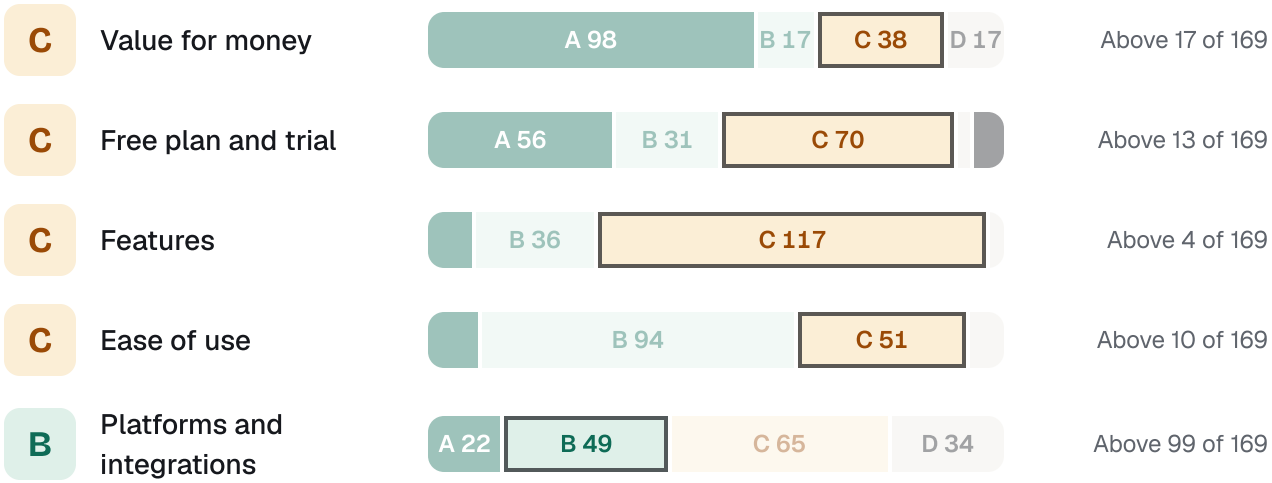

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 99 of 169) and worst on features (C, above 4).

Its paid plans start at $8 a month for each person, against a middle price of $5.83 for the category: 50 of the 72 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 36 tools score higher and cost less.

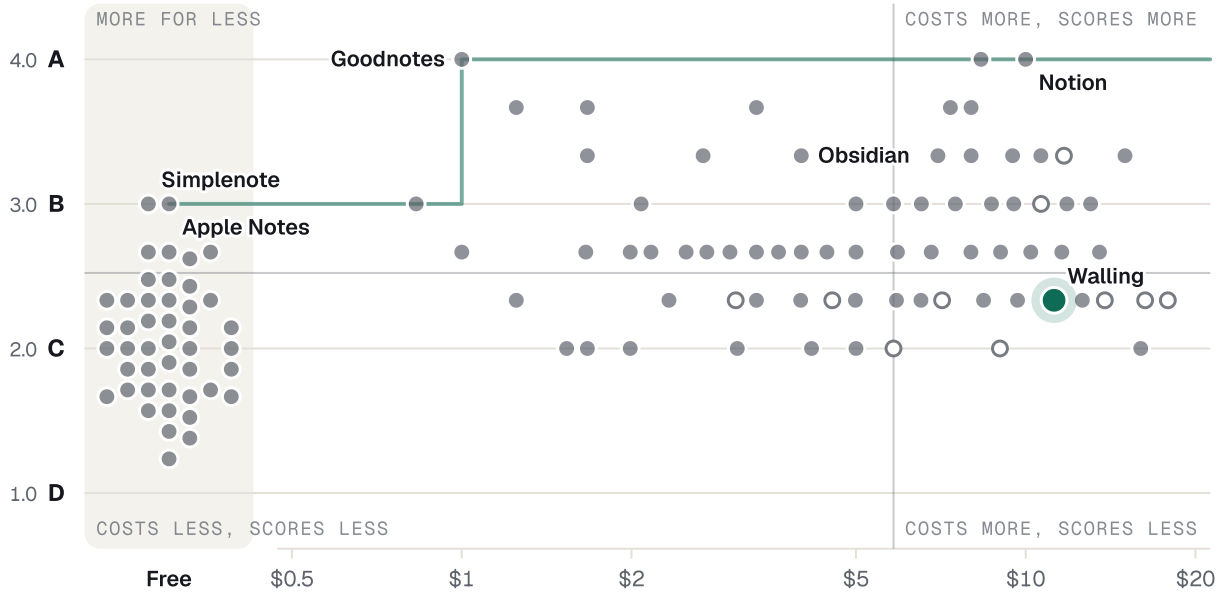

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 170 note-taking apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Walling's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 118 note-taking apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Walling is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Walling you would be making an AI model, which you can rent by the request but not make. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 137 of the 169 other note-taking apps grade higher. It costs $96 a year.

What you could make

- Notes, kanban boards and web clipper: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- An AI model, which you can rent by the request but not make.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- Several people working in it at the same moment.

What this rests on. Walling's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
