Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 18 of the 47 other inventory management tools we grade

Webgility connects online stores and marketplaces to QuickBooks and Xero, posting orders, refunds, payouts and fees as accounting entries. It also syncs inventory quantities, prices and costs between the accounting system and each sales channel. Plans are priced by monthly order volume, and the company also sells bookkeeping services.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Webgility you would be making checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $828 a year.

What you could make

- Inventory and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you.

- Data from Amazon's seller tools and years of sales estimates.
- Live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them.
- It plugs into other products, QuickBooks Online, QuickBooks Desktop and Xero among them.

What this rests on. Webgility's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
