Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 26 of the 134 other automation tools we grade

Workflowgen is a low-code process automation platform from Advantys for workflows that involve people as well as systems. It combines a graphical workflow designer, a web form designer and a user portal, and can call AI models from inside a process. Pricing is by quote.

To get you started, here are 7 things to know about Workflowgen, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> It publishes no prices and is aimed at company-wide rollouts, so a person or small team has no way to try it cheaply.
> From our report card of Workflowgen

1 Best for approval-heavy business processes on Microsoft 365

WorkflowGen is a low-code platform for approval-style workflows, with a form designer, a user portal and AI steps.

2 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android.

3 Graphical workflow designer

An HTML5 designer for processes that mix human and system steps, with transitions, synchronization and subprocesses.

4 Web form designer

Builds forms without programming, with .NET and JavaScript code editors for cases that need custom behavior.

5 User portal

A single view where participants start requests and follow their status, with single sign-on depending on configuration.

6 A 2.0 GPA, above 26 of 134

That is against the other automation tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

7 Keep it

To replace Workflowgen you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Workflowgen is made by Advantys.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

26/134

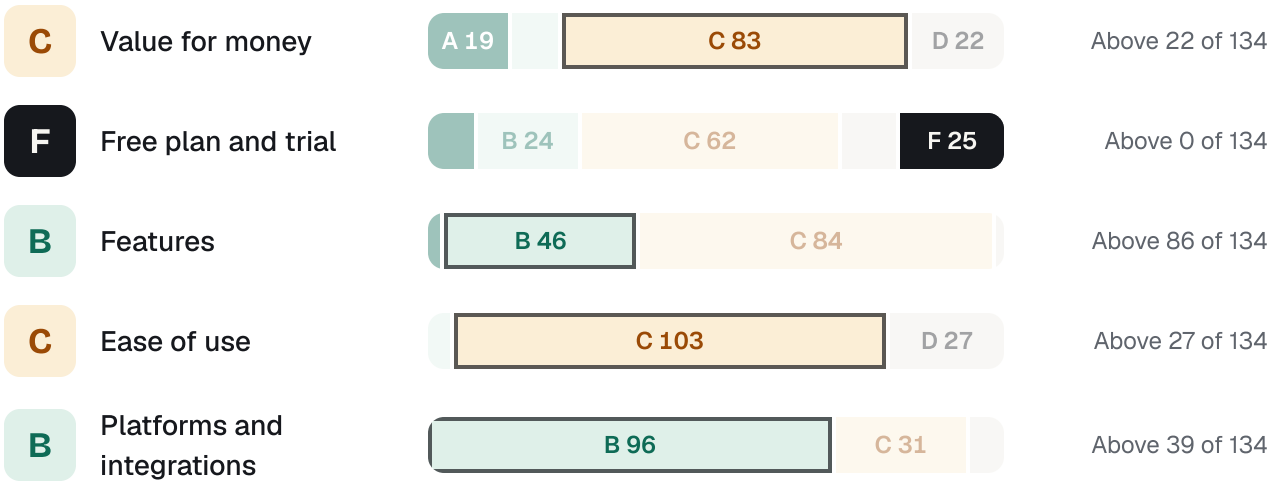

Other automation tools it is graded above

Workflowgen's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 26 of the 134 other automation tools we grade, and level with 27.

It stands best on features (B, above 86 of 134) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 135 automation tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Workflowgen's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Workflowgen you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 81 of the 134 other automation tools grade higher.

What you could make

- Forms: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- A builder that other people can use without writing code.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: single sign-on.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Workflowgen's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
